

RESUME WRITING

A resume is a tool designed to convince the reader to contact you for an interview. A well-written resume will market your skills, achievements, experiences and future capabilities.

Education

Include degree, institution, major, minor, and date of completion. Optional content: GPA, honors, study abroad, relevant coursework.

Experience

Experience should include part-time jobs, internships, volunteer roles, and other professional development experiences. Ensure your title clearly defines your role.

Provide Evidence

The bullet points under your title describe your skills and accomplishments in that role. See formula for writing bullet points on next page.

Additional Categories:

TIPS FOR STANDING OUT

Do...

- Keep your resume to one page in length unless you have enough relevant experiences to have two full pages
- Tailor your resume by using keywords from the position description in your bullet points
- Keep more relevant information closer to the top
- Use an easy-to-read font (size 10-12 point)
- Use short phrases rather than sentences
- Have a mentor review your resume for any spelling, grammar, and layout errors
- When printing your resume, print on quality resume paper

Don't...

- Use personal pronouns (e.g. "I", "me" or "my")
- Include high school information, especially as a junior or senior (unless directly relevant)
- Include personal information such as age and marital status
- Rely on spell check to catch typos
- Use abbreviations
- List references (send a list of references separately if asked)

Optimize your Resume for ATS Software:

Applicant Tracking Systems (ATS) help companies collect, sort, and select applicants for further review. They use keywords from the job description looking for exact matches in a candidate's resume. Tips for making sure your resume makes it through an ATS search:

- Include as many keywords from the job description in your resume that match your skills and qualifications
- Keep your formatting simple and consistent, especially section headings and key dates
- Submit your resume in .pdf or .docx format (ensure you are following company directions)
- Don't use programs like Canva, graphics, or charts as they aren't readable by ATS
